How to Recycle Packing Peanuts. Made of polystyrene, packing peanuts can take hundreds of years to decompose. They can be a problem for any recipient of a package containing them because the peanuts are lightweight so they easily scatter...Imagine a water bottle that dreams of becoming a pair of jeans, a steel can that hopes to someday be transformed into a bicycle, or a plastic bottle that believes that, one day, it could become a park bench. These are some of the many destinies that could be fulfilled if more Americans took time to do one thing: recycle. Hiking or simply walking with your dog is one of life's great pleasures. But picking up the inevitable poop? Not the fun part, but a small price to pay as a responsible partner of your furry friend. You always carry pick-up bags and never fail to stoop and scoop. Commendable! You're keeping walkways, landscape and [...] Answers.com is the place to go to get the answers you need and to ask the questions you want
