Hey guy, welcome to the forums. The vast majority of the working parts on these machines can be obtained from a local NAPA autoparts store. In fact, if you call Terramite they can often give you the NAPA part number. Thanks for the info on the brake drum. I found my companion flange assembly is damaged (2 bolts are gone and the tips on the flange are broken off) so I will be replacing it - I also have a 96 model so while I am under the machine will check to see if I need to order that as well.
